A Trip Around Worlds of Fun

A trip around the world is easy when guests come to Worlds of Fun. In a few hours close to home they can experience different lands and friendliness of "foreign" Ambassadors representing distant parts of the world.

Early each morning the first trams unload passengers ready for around-the-world adventures. As they wait to enter the park, costume characters and the WOF Crazyband entertain them, preparing them for a pleasant trip.

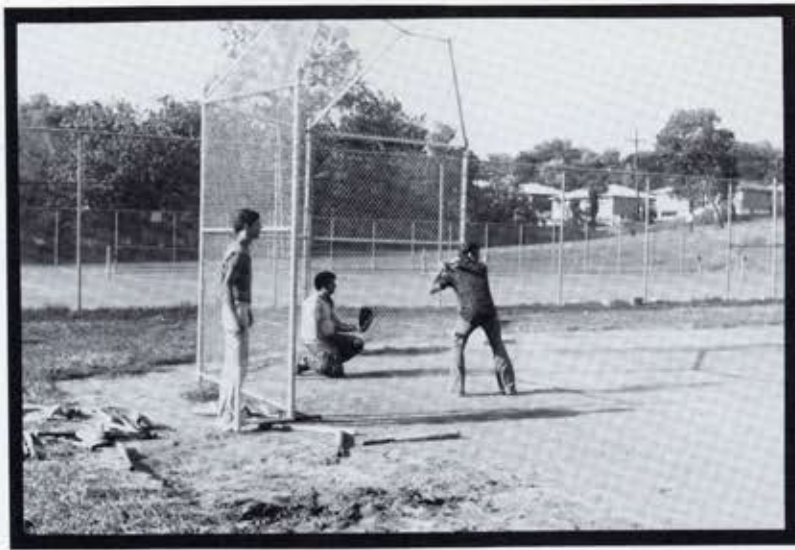

"All roads lead to the Forum," and Amphitheatre stars brighten summer days for guests and employees.

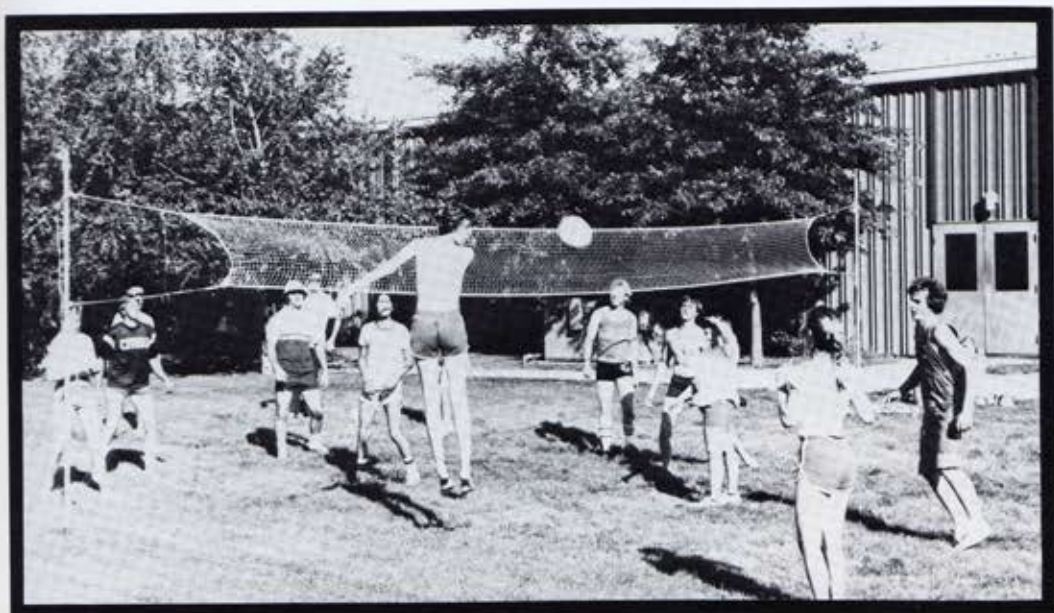

Employees enjoy Worlds of Fun travels more than guests do in other ways, such as afterwork movies, disco parties, trips to other parks and sports competitions. All these are part of an Ambassador's special summer experience.

Friendships and romances, too, are common as Ambassadors enjoy co-workers both on and off the job. When they leave at shift-change or after guests have completed their travels, they will look back and remember the crazy times they have had and the friends with whom they have promised to keep in touch.

Administration

Lamar Hunt, Chairman of the Board, poses in his version of "The Thinker" as he considers the problems associated with operating Worlds of Fun.

Amusement parks are fun, but the people behind the fun are hard-working businessmen all year long. Park administrators work hard and have fun at the same time at Worlds of Fun.

Jack Steadman, President of Worlds of Fun, probably thinking, "You better hurry up and take this picture because I won't smile too much longer!"

Lee Derrough, Vice President and General Manager, smiles as he says a friendly hello to Ambassadors.

A little bit extra

"If you can't do the trick, Joey, just wing it!" Terry suggests.

"Daddy, are you sure he can be out of his cage?"

Worlds of Fun heart-throbs Dan'l, Grrrtrude and Sam in the get-away car.

"Brian, is that a jealous look on your face as Roger kisses Sally?!"

"You can't fool me, Mr. Cosby! I know you didn't steal my belly button 'cause it's still right here!"

"What should I do next?"

With every new experience we share, we learn about others, but more about ourselves.

"Are you SURE Mrs. Kangaroo doesn't mind us sitting in her pouch?"

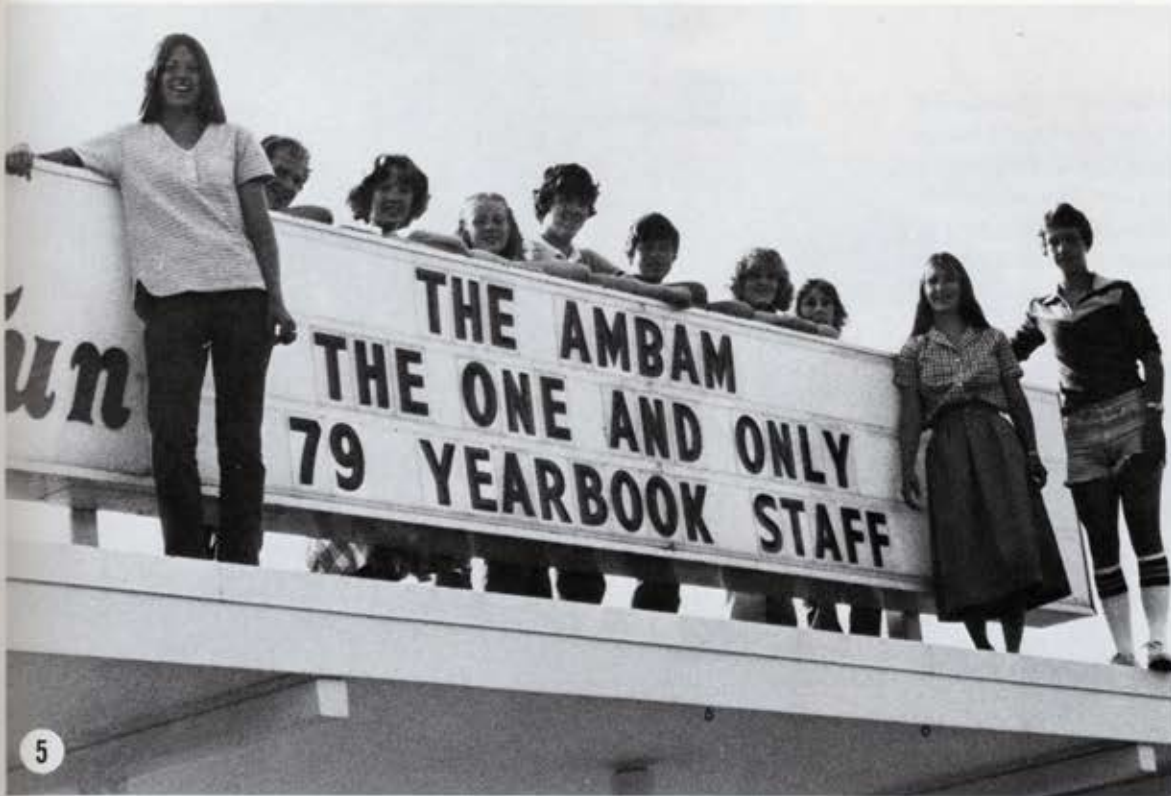

"If you don't let go of my arm, I'm gonna punch YOUR clock!"

The little bit extra that each Ambassador has put into his job has resulted in "great times" for guests and great memories for him, which will carry him through until the next season when the excitement of an "around-the-world" trip begins all over again.

The life of a courier is a demanding one with few moments to spare for relaxation!

The foot? Oh, it only hurts when I grin like this!

Oops! You caught me—late again!

Even pretty girls have to show ID's to get into the park. (They just have to come up closer to show them to me!)

We're staying open HOW late?

(Left) Bang, bang! Into the trough you go! (Above) You really wouldn't tell Ray Bragg about this innocent swim, would you?

See You Next
Summer!
